2. Processing of personal data

2.1. Personal data and its sources

Formycon AG will process the following personal data of shareholders and their proxies in connection with the general meeting to enable shareholders and their proxies to exercise their shareholders' rights in relation to the general meeting:

- surname and first name, address, e-mail address,
- number of shares, class of shares, type of ownership of the shares,
- the specific identifier given to the shareholder by the ultimate intermediary, account number of the securities account of the shareholder,
- ticket number,
- voting at the general meeting,
- the content of questions asked by the shareholder, their answers, speeches and any objections to resolutions of the general meeting as well as the content of any requests for supplements to the agenda, countermotions and election proposals, and
- if applicable, the surname, first name and address of the respective proxy authorized by the shareholder, the granting of proxy authority, including any instructions issued to the proxy, and the proxy's specific identifier issued by the ultimate intermediary.

To the extent that this personal data was not provided by the shareholders or their proxies in the context of the registration for the general meeting or received during the conduction of the general meeting, the bank holding the securities account or the respective ultimate intermediary within the meaning of section 67c (3) German Stock Corporation Act (Aktiengesetz, "AktG") will transmit their personal data to Formycon AG.

2.2. Purpose of processing and legal basis

Formycon AG will process the personal data of the shareholders and their proxies to the extent necessary to process the shareholders' rights exercised by them in connection with the general meeting. The legal basis for this processing is Article 6 (1) subpara. 1 (c) General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR") (compliance with legal obligations) in conjunction with section 67e (1) AktG.

In addition, Formycon AG processes personal data of shareholders and their proxies to the extent necessary for convening the general meeting and for providing information about the general meeting to shareholders, their proxies or intermediaries.

Formycon AG may transmit this information through third parties acting on its behalf and, where applicable, via the so-called SWIFT system (Society for Worldwide Interbank Financial Telecommunication). The legal basis for this processing is Article 6 (1) subpara. 1 (c) GDPR (compliance with legal obligations) in conjunction with section 67a (1), (2) and section 125 (1) AktG.

Furthermore, Formycon AG will store personal data of its shareholders and their proxies to the extent that this is necessary to comply with statutory obligations to retain data. The legal basis for this processing is Article 6 (1) subpara. 1 (c) GDPR (compliance with legal obligations) in conjunction with the respective statutory obligations to retain data, in particular under capital market, stock corporation, commercial and tax law.

Moreover, Formycon AG will possibly continue to store personal data of its shareholders and their proxies to the extent that this is necessary to establish, exercise or defend legal claims. The legal basis for this processing is Article 6 (1) subpara. 1 (f) GDPR (balancing of interests). Formycon AG's legitimate interest is to establish, exercise or defend legal claims.

2.3. Duration of storage of personal data

Formycon AG will store this personal data for the above-mentioned purposes only for as long as this is necessary for these purposes.

The storage period for the above purposes is generally up to three years after the end of the general meeting.

If a shareholder is no longer a shareholder of the company, Formycon AG will only, subject to other statutory provisions, store his/her personal data only for a maximum of twelve months on the basis of section 67e (2) sentence 1 AktG.

Data will only be stored for a longer period on the basis of section 67e (2) sentence 2 AktG, subject to other statutory provisions, as long as this is necessary for any possible legal proceedings to establish, exercise or defend legal claims. In this case, Formycon AG will store the data until the end of the respective legal proceeding.

2.4. Recipients of personal data

The following service provider will process the above-mentioned data for the above-mentioned purposes (as processor) on behalf of Formycon AG:

meet2vote AG
Marienplatz 1
84347 Pfarrkirchen
Germany

In order to transmit information to shareholders, their proxies, or intermediaries through third-party service providers, including, where applicable, via the so-called SWIFT system, the following service provider also processes data regarding the convening of the Annual General Meeting and the voting results on behalf of Formycon AG (as a so-called data processor):

Captrace GmbH
Äppelallee 27
65203 Wiesbaden
Germany

The service providers will only receive personal data from Formycon AG that is required to perform the commissioned service and will process the data exclusively in accordance with the instructions of Formycon AG.

In order to provide information to shareholders, their proxies, or intermediaries, including, where applicable, via the so-called SWIFT system, data regarding the convening of the Annual General Meeting and the voting results will be transmitted to the following authorized provider of information services for Annual General Meetings:

Proxymity Limited
7-12 Noel Street
London, England W1F 8GQ
United Kingdom

Otherwise, Formycon AG will only make the personal data available to shareholders and their proxies as well as to recipients of the published agenda and potentially published shareholder requests for additions to the agenda as well as counter motions and election proposals within the framework of the statutory provisions in connection with the general meeting. In particular, if shareholders and their proxies are to be represented at the general meeting by voting proxies appointed by the company disclosing their name, Formycon AG will enter their names, place of residence, number of shares and type of ownership in the list of attendees of the general meeting to be drawn up pursuant to section 129 (1) sentence 2 AktG. All shareholders and their proxies may inspect this data during the general meeting and shareholders may also inspect it for up to two years later pursuant to section 129 (4) sentence 2 AktG. With regards to the transfer of personal data to recipients of the published agenda and potentially published shareholder requests for additions to the agenda as well as counter motions and election proposals in connection with the announcement of shareholder requests for supplements to the agenda as well as counter motions and election proposals by shareholders, please refer to the explanations in section II No. 9 lit a) and No. 9 lit. b) of the invitation to the general meeting of the company on 10 June 2026.

If shareholders and/or their proxies make use of their right to information pursuant to section 131 (1) AktG, or otherwise speak, this may be done by stating the name and, if applicable, the place of residence or registered office of the shareholder and/or proxy asking the question. Requests for information and other requests to speak can only be acknowledged by other participants in the general meeting. In the case of requests for supplements to the agenda pursuant to section 122 (2) AktG and in the case of countermotions and election proposals pursuant to sections 126 (1), 127 AktG, these will be made publicly available as described in more detail under section II No. 9 lit. a) and No. 9 lit. b) of the invitation to the general meeting of the company on 10 June 2026, and, if necessary, put to the vote at the general meeting.

2.5. No transfer of personal data to third countries

Formycon AG does not transfer the personal data processed in the context of the general meeting to countries outside the European Union or the European Economic Area (so-called third countries).

To the extent that the service providers commissioned by Formycon AG, meet2vote AG and/or Captrace GmbH transfer personal data to Proxymity Limited, which is based in the United Kingdom, for the purpose of transmitting information to shareholders, their proxies, or intermediaries, including, where applicable, via the so-called SWIFT system, the transfer is covered by an adequacy decision issued by the European Commission. The adequacy decision is available here: https://eur-lex.europa.eu/eli/dec_impl/2025/2571/oj.

2.6. No obligation to provide the data

Shareholders and their proxies are not obliged to provide Formycon AG with the above-mentioned data in connection with the general meeting. The provision of the data is not required by law or by contract. The data is also not required for the conclusion of a contract. However, the provision of personal data is necessary to exercise shareholders' rights with respect to the general meeting.

Insofar, if shareholders and their proxies do not provide the data, Formycon AG will not be able to enable them to exercise shareholders' rights in relation to the general meeting.

2.7. No automated decision-making, including profiling

Formycon AG will not carry out any automated decision-making, including profiling, pursuant to Article 22 (1) and (4) GDPR on the basis of the personal data.

3. Rights of data subjects in relation to the processing

The shareholders and their proxies have the following rights with respect to the processing of their personal data as data subjects:

- right of access (Article 15 GDPR)
- right to rectification (Article 16 GDPR)
- right to erasure ("right to be forgotten") (Article 17 GDPR)
- right to restriction of processing (Article 18 GDPR)

- right to data portability (Article 20 GDPR)
- right to object (Article 21 GDPR)
- right to withdraw consent (Article 7 (3) GDPR)

The following right to object under Article 21 (1) GDPR is especially highlighted:

Right to object on grounds relating to the data subject's particular situation (Article 21 (1) GDPR)

At any time, shareholders and their proxies as data subjects have the right pursuant to Article 21 (1) GDPR to object, on grounds relating to their particular situation, to processing of personal data concerning them which is based on Article 6 (1) subpara. 1 (f) GDPR (see clause 2.2).

If an objection is raised, Formycon AG will no longer process the personal data unless Formycon AG demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the shareholders and their proxies as data subject or the processing serves the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims.

Data subjects can contact Formycon AG or its data protection officer using the contact details referred to above in order to exercise their rights. In addition, shareholders and their proxies as data subjects have a right to lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority (Article 77 GDPR). Data subjects can assert this right to lodge a complaint in particular to the supervisory authority of the (federal) state in which they have their residence or habitual residence or the data protection supervisory authority for the non-public sector of the federal state of Bavaria (Bayrisches Landesamt für Datenschutzaufsicht – BayLDA), where Formycon AG has its registered office.

For more information on the General Data Protection Regulation and the rights of data subjects in relation to the processing of their personal data, please refer to the online available information brochure \(in German only\) of the Federal Commissioner for Data Protection and Freedom of Information \(Die Bundesbeauftragte für den Datenschutz und die Informationsfreiheit, BfDI\).
